CLAUSE-66

Environmental Health & Safety / Construction Safety

Construction and renovation activities that could be classified as construction include building renovations, excavation and trenching operations, painting, masonry, and certain activities associated with building systems such as HVAC, plumbing, and electrical supply.

Construction work can be particularly hazardous. The use of personal protective equipment, fall protection, fire safety, electrical safety, and other precautions are essential for safe construction work.

The following rules apply to construction sites:

- Heed all warning signs that have been posted.
- Do not walk, stand, or work under suspended loads. If you raise the load, be sure to crib, block, and otherwise secure the load as soon as possible.
- Avoid placing unusual strain on equipment or materials.
- Be prepared for unexpected hazards. BE ALERT!
- Fatigue is a serious risk on the job. If you are tired, slowdown gets help, or switch to a task that doesn't require as much precision. Never let too little sleep jeopardize your safety.
- If you are not sure what to do or how to do it, ask. Never go ahead on a job unless you know what you are doing, what the risks are, and how to protect yourself.
- Think of safety as one of your most important job responsibilities. Before starting each job, plan it out. Think about tools, materials, and protective equipment you will need and the procedures you will follow.
- Keep your work area clear of potential hazards such as items that you could trip over or bump in to, materials that could catch fire, or chemicals that could spill.
- Never ignore a safety hazard. Either fix it or report it.
- Report all incidents and near misses to your supervisor and the Office of Safety.
- Know what to do in an emergency. There isn't time to review procedures when an emergency situation occurs. If you are unsure, ask your supervisor before you begin the job.

Teenage Tiktoker's murder suspect sent on 14-day judicial remand

Identification parade to be conducted once victim's mother, aunt return from Chitral

ISLAMABAD: With the establishment of digital payment systems, the chances of monetary frauds and pickpocketing have been reduced at the cattle markets, and it is expected that banks too would establish their card scanning mechanism to reduce cash handling in crowded cattle markets.

The two main digital wallet companies of the country – JaxxCash and eSantitas – have established QR code camps in several cash markets in the country to reduce cash carrying by both the buyers and the sellers.

Both waystations and Jazcash have developed QR code payment system at several cattle markets across Pakistan, allowing the buyers to move around the cattle markets with their mobile phones and limited amount of cash only. "The average person carry between Rs30,000 to Rs80,000 while shopping for the animals in the markets, and for the purchase of cattle we divide the total group members into three groups, everyone is hit by a gun once, all of it is lost," said Ashraf Ali Khan, who visits the cattle market several times, to buy animals for the extended family.

However, he expressed satisfaction over the availability of digital payment modes, allowing them to focus more on the purchases. The move by both the digital wallets was also part of the national policy and State Bank of Pakistan's (SBP) 'Go Cashless' campaign.

To send money, users can tap the scan code option on the home screen, scan the QR code, and enter the amount to complete the transaction, and the receiver of payments gets the notified amount in their accounts just by the tap.

ISLAMABAD: A local court on Wednesday approved a 14-day judicial remand for Omar Hayat, the prime suspect in the murder of social media influencer Sana Yousof, to facilitate his identification parade.

The accused was presented before Judicial Magistrate Ahmed Shehzad Goudal by the federal police. Tensions rose in the courtroom when the magistrate noticed the absence of both the prosecutor and the district public prosecutor.

Expressing his displeasure, Magistrate Gondal said: "Where are the prosecutors of my court? Usually, no one shows up, but today the courtroom is full."

Upon being informed by the duty prosecutor that the regular prosecutor was on leave, the magistrate ordered the presence of the district prosecutor before the proceedings could continue. The hearing was briefly adjourned, and the accused was taken back into police custody while awaiting the district prosecutor's arrival.

Later, upon reviewing the investigation officer's request, the magistrate approved the remand and ordered Umar Hayat to be sent to jail for 14 days for the purpose of conducting an

The suspect had allegedly murdered 17-year-old Sana Younis at her house in G-13 on Monday. He was arrested from Faisalabad within 20 hours of the incident. Additionally, the victim's mobile phone and the murder weapons were also recovered from his possession.

The ruthless killer took the phone with him after the murder to destroy evidence. In order to apprehend the accused, raids were conducted at over 31 locations in three cities. The accused is a 22-year-old unemployed man who repeatedly attempted to contact the victim. Upon her refusal to respond, he committed the murder.

Moreover, the mother and aunt of Sana Younsaf are likely to identify the suspect arrested by the police in comnection with the teenage girl's murder, Dunn has learned.

Police officers said that on Wednesday, the suspect was sent to Adiala jail on a 14-day judicial remand for the identification parade.

They said that a case had been registered over the murder in response to a complaint lodged by the victim's mother, Farama Yousof. According to the FIR, the victim's aunt was present in the house, while her father was out.

However, the FIR does not clearly state whether the victim's mother was present in the house at the time of the murder, the officers added. They said the family of Sama Yousof had left for their hometown in Chitral along with the body for burial.

The police will request the mother and want to return as soon as possible for the identification parade.

The victim's aunt, who also resides in Chitral, had come to Islamabad a few days ago to visit her brother (Sana Younas's father) and was present in the house at the time of the murder.

The officers said that, so far, the investigators only have evidence in the form of geo-fencing data, recovery of an iPhone from the suspect, and CCTV footage. The suspect has yet to be interrogated, as no witness has so far recorded a statement regarding the murder.

However, there are two potential witnesses. The aunt who was present at the scene and the mother, on whom

So far, the police have made successful efforts to trace and arrest the suspect and obtained his judicial remand for further legal action, the officers said. The investigation into the murder will gain momentum after the identification parade and recording of witness statements.

The police are also tracing other individuals considered as suspects who may have either assisted the suspect or been used by him intentionally. After committing the murder, the suspect reportedly left the victim's house in a car driven by another person and reached Chungi No 26, from where he boarded a passenger vehicle.

The police will also investigate the ownership of the weapon used in the murder — whether it was licensed or illegal — and determine who owned or lent it to the suspect.

Bringing the weapon to the victim's house suggests that he came there with the intent to harm her, the officers added.
